The objective of this series is to highlight important ongoing work on how exposures to early childhood adversity influence physical and mental health in childhood and adulthood. Each visiting scholar will lecture about her work for an hour, followed by an hour discussion of the lecture material and readings provided by the scholar. Limited time is available for private meetings.

Thursday, April 15, 2010, 12:30 pm – 2:30 pm
1102 Scaife, University of Pittsburgh

• Edith Chen, Ph.D., University of British Columbia
  “Socioeconomic Status and Children’s Health: Investigating Levels of Influence”

Thursday, May 20, 2010, 12:00 pm – 5:00 pm (note: new start time)
BST-South, Room 120, University of Pittsburgh

• Christine Heim, Ph.D.
  Emory University School of Medicine
  “The Link Between Childhood Trauma and Depression: Insights from HPA Axis Studies in Humans”

• Katri Räikkönen, Ph.D., University of Helsinki
  “Early Life Exposures, HPA Axis, and Psychological Factors: A Natural Experiment”